German Official Announcement Says Goebbels Recovering "From Grippe"

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN SAYS LONDON PAPER

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Dec. 31.—An official announcement today said Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels has sufficiently recovered from an attack of grippe to broadcast New Year's message tonight. Goebbels will be heard over all German stations in a 15-minute talk.

LONDON, Dec. 31.—Joseph Goebbels, German propaganda minister, suffered a nervous breakdown when told of publicity given abroad to the alleged beating he suffered at the hands of friends of a motion picture star's husband, the London Daily Mirror asserted today.

Official circles in Berlin, said the Mirror, in an attempt to explain Goebbels' continued illness, admitted that he "suffered a relapse."

Can't Leave Germany
Chancellor Hitler, strongly opposing a divorce between Goebbels and his wife, has refused Frau Goebbels permission to leave Germany according to the Mirror.

The Ministry of propaganda has asked Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop to deny stories about the Goebbels' thrashing, but so far he has refused to do so, the London paper said.

The Mirror yesterday asserted that Goebbels was set upon by friends of Gustav Froelich, German star-producer, when Goebbels was found in the flat of Froelich's wife, Lida Barova, also a film star, on December 22.

Democratic party to revamp its program in line with changing public opinion.

One senator quoted Garner as saying Democratic losses were so widespread that they should not be considered as having turned on purely local issues.

Farm-Aid Law Changes

A farm bill senator attributed to Garner the belief that the present farm-aid law should be drastically changed, if not completely junked for the so-called domestic market plan.

The vice president was said to be talking in general principles, militantly condemning the system of paying farmers for not planting. He was said to be favorable to a plan under which the farmers would be assured cost-of-production prices by limiting the amount of their crops they can sell in the domestic market. Surpluses would be dumped abroad.

But the idea of restricting farmers on what they may plant and what they may reap was said to rankle this patriarch of the Democratic party.

Suggestions in administration circles that processing taxes be levied upon major farm products to raise $500,000,000 for parity price benefits to farmers, were reported to have received the vice-presidential frown.

Under the present law there is an annual appropriation of $500,000,000 for the soil conservation program and another $250,000,000 for parity payments.

'Open House' To Be Observed At 'Y'

The Young Men's Christian Association, adhering to custom, will hold "open house" for boys and young men of the community on Monday, January 2, General Secretary Robert L. Meermans announced.

Throughout the past week a holiday schedule arranged especially for the period has attracted scores of youths to the building for association affairs.

Physical Director William Winter said the customary "Y" activity schedule will be resumed Tuesday morning. He said the Midget group, however, will meet Wednesday, January 4 at 4:30 instead of on Monday.

Boys of the Soloto street clubs of The Townsmen enjoyed a noon dinner treat at the "Y" today as guests of The Townsmen.

HITLER BELIEVED PLANNING NEW ARMAMENT ACT

Reich's position was strengthened with the virtual acquisition of the vast Skoda arms works in Czechoslovakia, in which France formerly held the chief interest.

May Force Move

On the other hand, confronted by a fresh German submarine threat, British circles admitted that if a new arms limitation agreement is not forthcoming, this country may be compelled considerably to expand her anti-submarine forces, especially increasing the destroyer fleet.

A communique from the foreign office today stated that conversations between British and German experts on the Reich's request "were held in the most friendly atmosphere."

"The two governments expressed their views on the points at issue," the announcement said, "and the German government will in due course give a definite reply in writing."

British official circles stressed that the fundamental policy of this country remains one of welcoming any effort to achieve international disarmament by agreement.

Bi-Lateral Agreement In 1936

Following the London naval agreement of 1936, Germany signed a bi-lateral pact with Great Britain in which the Reich agreed to limit her naval strength to 35 per cent of Britain's. Germany's submarines, however, were to be allowed tonnage up to 45 per cent of Britain's and, in special circumstances, 100 per cent.

At that time Britain had only about 50,000 tons in underwater craft, but since then the tonnage has grown to 70,000.

If Germany's announcement is not intended as a gesture to strengthen her hand in arms limitation talks, it amounts to a fresh set-back to Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and his policy of appeasement. The challenge to Britain's naval supremacy comes only a week after Chamberlain, in the House of Commons, called for some "sign" of peaceful intent from Hitler.

be necessary during the coming year," the statement said, "to make possible achievement of the extermination of anti-Japanese communism and creation of a new order to emancipate the Far East from bondage and subservience to western powers."

The manifesto "deplored" the fact that an unnamed third power is assisting Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek "thus interfering with Japan's Pacific reconstruction with the object of selfishly protecting its own interests in China."

This was an obvious allusion to recent American loans to the Chiang Kai-Shek regime.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MEASURING RICHES

We may not have all the money we should like to have. We may not enjoy the conveniences we might wish. Nevertheless, our riches don't consist of the abundance of things we possess. Our health, our habits, our emotions that are harnessed, our family, our children and other loved ones, and our friends make up the big part of our wealth.

Now, as we parents enter the New Year, let us take stock of ourselves. Let us ask ourselves such questions as those that follow:

Am I physically fit? Am I as healthy as I can make myself? Am I doing all I can to develop and keep my health? Do I get enough sleep? Do I relax when I have the opportunity? Do I have peace? How well do I master my emotions? Can I keep calm at trying times? Am I self-controlled and patient? Do I allow myself to be disturbed by normal noises of the baby and growing child? Do I talk loud? Is my voice high and squeaky? When others in the family become vexed and excited and speak in loud, shrill tones, am I gentle and serene? Is my voice soft and quiet then?

Good Manners?

Do I exercise good manners toward my children and other members of the family? Am I as courteous to them as I would have them be to me? Have I the courage to confess my sins against my loved ones and to ask of them forgiveness when I know that I have done them wrong?

Do I vainly hurt the feelings of my children? Do I ever laugh at their blunders or resort to shame and ridicule as punishment? Can I close my eyes to the small and unimportant errors in my loved ones? How prone am I to scold and nag? Am I miserly or generous with worthy praise? Do I ever rebuke or punish my child just to make myself feel better? How grown-up am I in relation to my children? Do I do childish things toward them? Do I expect too much of them in terms of grown-up judgments and conventions?

Imagination Alive?

How good is my imagination? Can I enter with the little child into his land of make-believe, walk with his fairies and talk with them? Am I able, as a parent, to put myself, in my imagination, in the place of my spouse, or child, see a little as he sees, feel a little as he feels and understand a little as he understands?

How well have I cultivated good habits in my children? How well have I helped them grow in self-reliance and independence? How consistent and dependable am I? How well do I hold myself to the standards which I set for my child? Have I earned his genuine affection and esteem? Am I fit to be loved and imitated? How well do I cooperate with the other parent? How companionable are we with each other?

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A NEW WRINKLE

Floris Hudnall, if you do not know it, is an American composer and she does not compose accompaniments for such as the "Big Apple." She does not rely upon mad saxophones which only tickle the ears. She seeks melody.

When John Massfield was in the United States, her musical setting for his poem, "Sea Fever," made such an impression upon him, that it was taken to England for radio broadcasts and such.

There is yet so much good music in the world that it is hard for any of it to get to us unless some unusual way of introducing it is found. Miss Hudnall found it and a Chicago music publisher is excited about it.

Her songs are published in "pony" size, so that folded, they fit neatly into a greeting card envelope—and they are going forth as "Greeting Chords." The idea is that these songs will not only carry greetings and convey sentiments but will be of continual use to singers.

Just Folks

NINETEEN THIRTY-EIGHT

You'll be remembered! That you needn't fear.

You'll get your place as an historic year.

But just before you leave this world behind

I wonder what you think about mankind.

Tell us, old year, before you have to go.

Has man grown less the savage? Yes or no?

Did you suspect when first we welcomed you

You'd hear a lot of Gentile and of Jew?

Of class and creed and up and down the world

See race against race in deadly warfare hurled;

See British gardens once their joy and pride

Tunneled with bomb-proof shelters, deep and wide?

How did you make the kindergarten class

Fitted with masks for deadly poison gas?

The babe carriage with the phosgene shield?

Out latest tanks for use in open field?

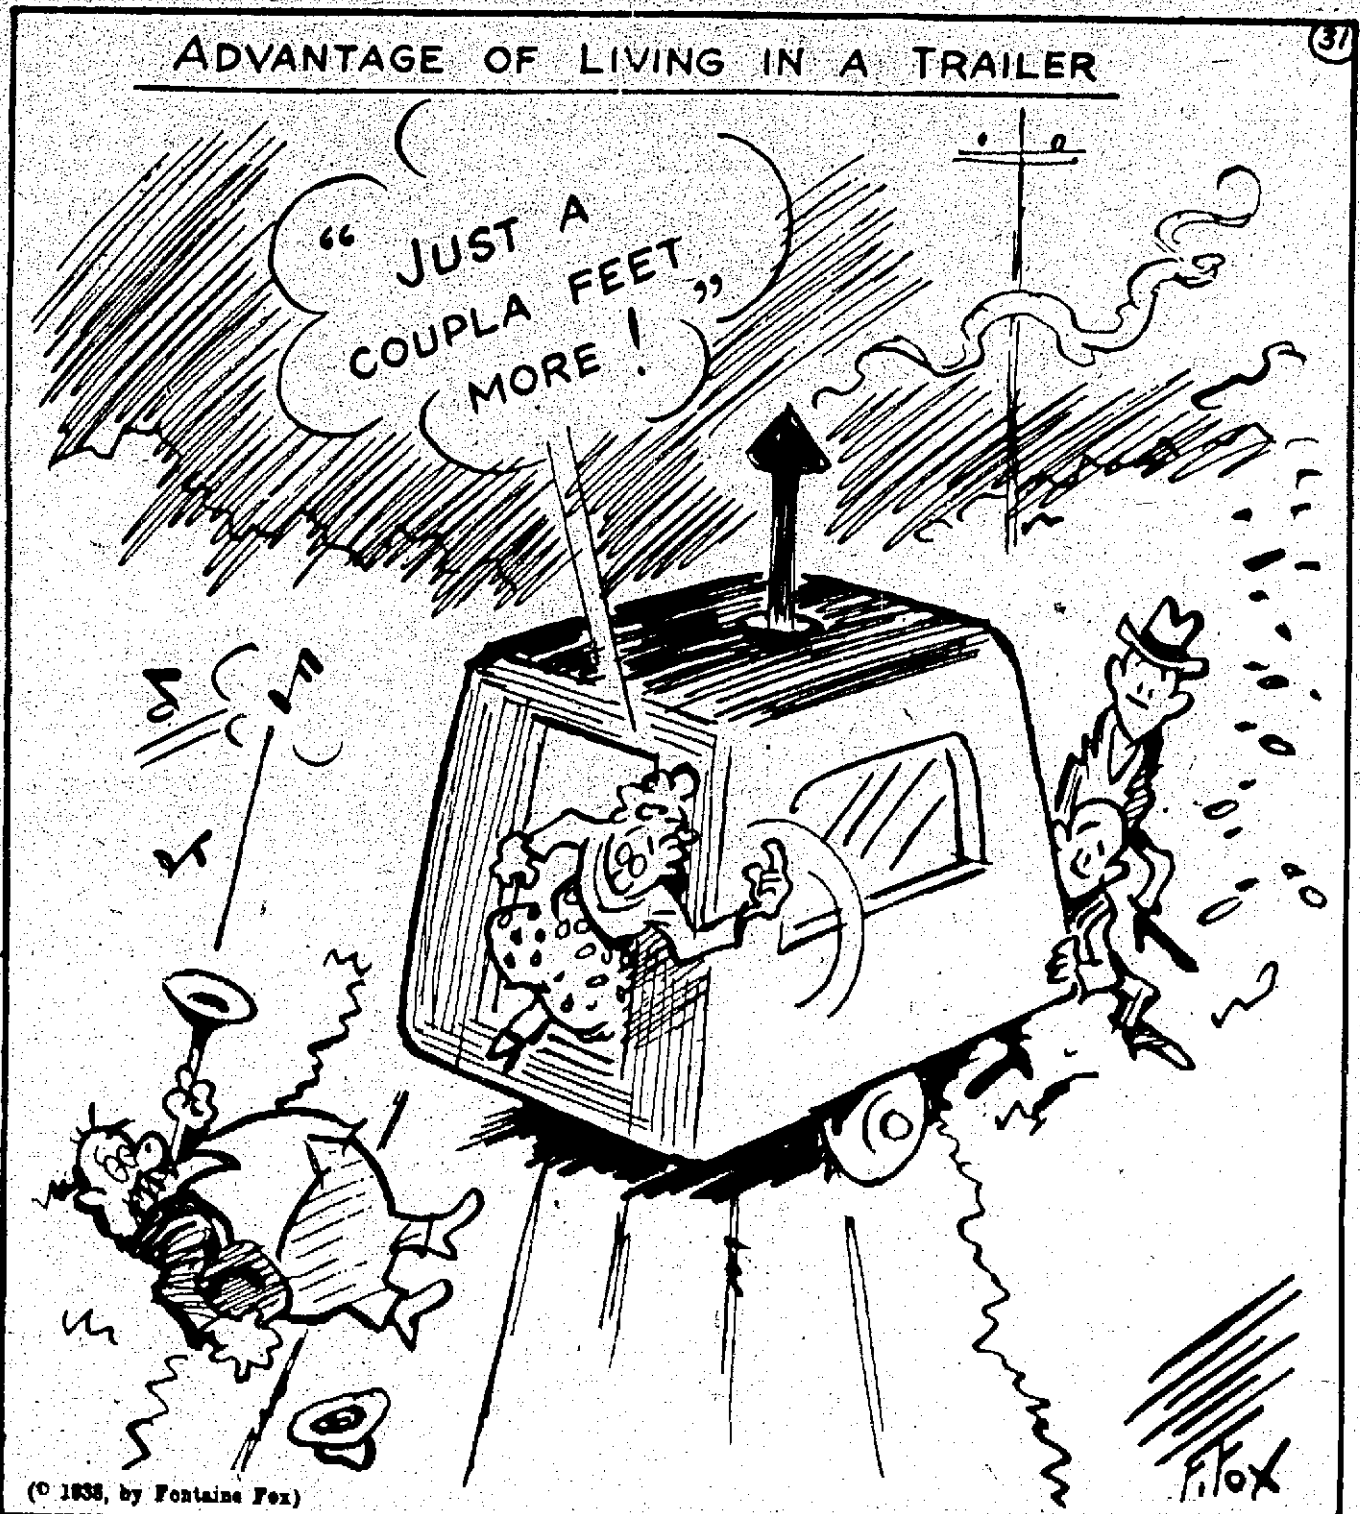

You've known us for a year. Before you go,

Would you approve our conduct? Yes or no?

HINTS and DINTS

Sun sets tonight 4:44. Sun rises tomorrow 7:21.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Seriously I am wishing you a grand 1939 in every way!

Hints and Dints Man.

If it was raining soup, some people would be holding a fork.

Of course you can make people feel good at Christmas by giving them a present, but you can also make people feel very comfortable if you pay them what you owe them on or before January 1.

A coating that will make glass invisible has been perfected by a woman scientist. Now if someone will invent something that will keep dirt from landing on glass, it will be something we can all see through.

The time of year has arrived for serving buckwheat pancakes and sausage for breakfast. No pancakes made with prepared buckwheat flour that can be stirred up in a jiffy, but the real old-fashioned kind that must be "set" each evening from the starter saved from the morning batter. The kind of pancakes that once started, must be served each morning lest the starter "die." But who wants to stop them, anyway?

Adolf—That Josef called me a bare-faced scoundrel.

Hermann—Well, probably he forgot about your mustache.

When telephone company collectors found water instead of nickels in coin telephones at Stanford University fraternity houses in Palo Alto, Calif., the angry company investigated. It learned that students had been paying for their telephone calls with ice nickels, frozen in molds to fit the slot.

CAN'T BE SO

The market reports tell us that rye is going up.

Which seems to be in sharp contradiction to what we noticed at New Year's eve parties.

It looks as if some of the foreign nations want to get into a war with each other just to get the United States to help one of them out. Our fighting should be done to protect our shores and we should be able to blow up any foe that attempts to land here or do any shooting towards us. Please pass the warships, airplanes, cannons and the infantry!

Vajda—What do you think about government ownership of railroads, power resources and so on?

Geeger—I think it's a great thing. When the government owns and runs everything, it'll have to pay all the taxes itself.

There are a lot of birds who are in favor of pensions long before the age of 65. In fact, they would take 'em any time.

An Australian squirrel is said to be able to leap forward and backward great distances at fast speed. Strangely enough, the animal has never entered politics.

If waste was eliminated in Washington a lot of birds would be out of a job.

The nose-dive and the talpsin are similar, inasmuch as the accomplishment is the same.

Good Taste

Encourage your young daughter to maintain friendships with many young men and discourage her from concentrating her thoughts on only one. Impress upon her that, should such a lone object of her interest leave town or be attracted by a new face, she will be left sadly alone and perhaps broken-hearted. And make her realize that only through friendships with many boys can she recognize the superiority of the one whom later she may choose as a life partner. If possible, quote cases to prove to her that the girl who is monopolized when very young and who marries her first beau misses the good times ordained for the teen age and frequently realizes, in mature years, that she and her husband have outgrown each other's tastes.

Reader's Question Answered

Dear Miss Markel—Is it proper for a bride to wear a short velvet dress and have the attendants in short dresses of silk? My idea is to have the attendants in harmonizing Winter shades, with all wearing black accessories.—Jane.

Answer—If the bride will dress in informal clothes, she should have only one attendant—a maid-of-honor. Bridesmaids belong only in a wedding in which the bride dresses in the traditional bridal attire. Your maid-of-honor may wear silk even though you wear velvet.

Hopkins Tackles Difficulties
Vulnerable In Commerce Post
WPA Probe May Be Embarrassing

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 31.—Harry L. Hopkins is tackling plenty of difficulties in his new post as secretary of commerce. To begin with, his appointment had no more than been announced before it began to be hinted that he might find trouble in getting himself confirmed by the senate. Regardless of the merits of these suggestions, they just go to show that President Roosevelt's selection of him for a cabinet berth by no means was unanimously popular. Moreover, it has been common talk that he had to have a cabinet portfolio in order to get him out of the WPA picture when congress starts investigating charges of improper politics in said WPA during his rulership of same. But supposing that some of such charges are substantiated? How will "Harry the Hop" be relieved of responsibility simply on the ground that he subsequently has been boosted into a higher position? It would seem to me that, the greater his current prominence, the more he will be embarrassed by flaws, if any, in his past record. I emphasize, "if any." I do not mean that there ARE any. But if there are, I do not see how his promotion will help him.

Additionally, what does Hopkins know about commerce? Approximately as much as I do. I should guess.

I am quite familiar with his past. He is a native of my old home town—Sioux City, Iowa. He was too young for me to associate with, but I am acquainted with what our mutual home folks say concerning him. He is a temperamental welfare worker. In olden days he would have been the local poormaster. This was a worthy stunt. Far be it from me to belittle it. "Hoppy," as he was called out in "Sioux City," glorified it—infinitely to national proportions. All O. K.! I endorse every bit of it.

But how does it make Harry a competent expert?

Ex-Daniel C. Roper.

Retiring Commerce Secretary Daniel C. Roper was not a commercial expert, either.

Theoretically he was a kind of a liaison officer between northern business and industry and agriculture and southern ditto. The truth is, he came up to Washington from South Carolina in 1892 and has been engaged ever since in nothing except politics, which he was good at. However, he never did learn the North or of the South, either, except from recollection and an occasional visit to his Carolina plantation. Essentially he always has been a Washingtonian—and, as a matter of business, purely a politician.

"Uncle Dan" is an exceedingly likable old fellow. But as a secretary of commerce? That is another matter. He never pretended to understand a thing about business. All the same, there was widespread personal regret in Washington at his departure.

Hopkins likewise is popular among the boys who have had intimate contacts with him. I have known him to pass up appointments of his own with the president in favor of newspapermen who were in a hurry. The journalistic gang swears by him. But, what the heck does he know about commerce? Harrington and WPA.

The choice of Col. F. C. ("Pink") Harrington as Hopkins' WPA successor is well received on all hands. As an army officer, conservative and used as a matter of fact, Gen. Hugh Johnson after three months' experience as WPA director for New York made exactly that statement even more bluntly three years ago, when he was still supporting the President and had taken the job at his request. As a further fact exactly that statement has been made by other competent and experienced men who have been in the WPA organization, as well as a matter of fact, Gen. Hugh Johnson after three months' experience as WPA director for New York made exactly that statement even more bluntly three years ago, when he was still supporting the President and had taken the job at his request.

But CCC Administrator Aubrey Williams doesn't feel complimented. He thought he was about to succeed Harry Hopkins as WPA head, amounting to a virtual cabinet post. The WPA directorship due present day to become the department of public welfare, and is Williams sore! It's an intra-New Deal row.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON—Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York disclosing opposition to bi-partisan WPA advisory boards:

"There's only one thing twice as bad as a partisan board and that's a bi-partisan board."

SAN FRANCISCO—Secret Service Captain Thomas Foster after two boys admitted "breaking" into the U. S. mint.

"We can't let a couple of kids break into the mint and get away with it."

BOSTON—Prof. Mark Jefferson of Ypsilanti State Teachers College: "The nation-born inhabitants of this country's metropolis is apt to be narrow and limited."

LOS ANGELES—Charles Luckman, toothpaste manufacturer: "There is decidedly an optimistic tone in industry throughout the east and midwest."

LONDON—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in the British "Empire" in a New Year's message: "Our armed strength enables us to say in the Councils of the Nations that in seeking friendship with all peoples we meet them in the spirit of reasonableness and fair-dealing—for we won't make concessions to force."

Jabber—I can read my wife like a book. Yes, but you can't shut her up like one.

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright, 1938)

It Is Now Admitted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. THE transfer of Mr. Harry Hopkins from the WPA to the Commerce Department has been the signal for so concentrated an effort upon the part of the journalistic reflectors of the Administration viewpoint to paint a pretty picture that the facts of the case, which are not pretty at all, seem likely to become obscured.

THE main fact is that, for a variety of sound reasons, too well known to need repetition, public sentiment had so turned against Mr. Hopkins and the WPA that it was clearly impossible to retain him in that position without great damage not only to himself but to the whole Roosevelt Administration. This is not a prejudiced statement from critics of the President. On the contrary, it is made by some of his most devoted newspaper admirers, dyed-in-the-wool New Dealers, who nevertheless recognize a situation when they see one.

FOR example, there is Mr. Raymond Clapper, whose adoration for the President has been unceasing. On December 24 Mr. Clapper wrote as follows: "Furthermore, Mr. Hopkins was on a spot ready to be taken off. WPA has been much discredited in the public mind, particularly because Mr. Hopkins was not sufficiently alive in keeping it clear of politics." Coming from so warm an admirer of both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hopkins, it will be conceded that this is the kindest possible presentation of the situation. Certainly it could be put much more realistically.

From another friend of the President's, his admiring biographer, Mr. Ernest Lindley, there is an additional testimony. Mr. Lindley points out that WPA is the "No. 1 sore spot" of the Administration and congratulates Mr. Roosevelt upon having transferred the three key people—Mr. Hopkins, Mr. Aubrey Williams and Mrs. Ellen Woodward—to other posts.

HE FURTHER asserts that the Administration will not oppose the various changes which are proposed to pull relief out of politics and curtail the executive power over funds. Concerning the WPA as an organization, Mr. Clapper says this: "Fundamentally, WPA is a defensive activity, solving nothing, and able only to mitigate the lot of those who do not have private employment. The state of unemployment now after six years demonstrates that WPA recovery does not restore private employment effectively."

NOW it is submitted that if after six years of WPA advocacy these are the views of the New Dealers themselves it cannot be far from the truth to say that "the WPA is not working; that it cannot be made to work and is certain to be revamped and generally overhauled by Congress." As a matter of fact, Gen. Hugh Johnson after three months' experience as WPA director for New York made exactly that statement even more bluntly three years ago, when he was still supporting the President and had taken the job at his request. Princess Trowbridge
Commits Suicide

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Describing herself as an "introvert" in what police said was a suicide note, the 21-year-old daughter of a widely-known Chicago minister was dead today after throwing herself in front of a speeding passenger train.

The girl was Princess Trowbridge, co-ed in a fashionable North Shore school and daughter of the Rev. L. B. Trowbridge, well-known as a prohibitionist, reformer and author of many pamphlets and books.

A note to her mother was found pinned to the lapel of her coat. It said:

"Think that I am happier this way. I was not made for this world. I am afraid of people and all competition. I have tried to take a different viewpoint toward life but I seem to have been an introvert. Oh, it's terrible to torture yourself with self-depreciation."

Rev. Trowbridge was stunned by the tragedy. "I just can't talk," he said. "I just can't talk."

Father Believes Kingston Girl Slain By Someone She Knew

Tells Police Of His Suspicions

Says Girl Was Too Cautious To Accept Appointments With Strange Men

SAWMILL "CLUES" PROVE WORTHLESS

(International News Service)
KINGSTON, Pa., Dec. 31.—The father of pretty 19-year old Margaret Martin, Kingston stenographer, whose slashed body was found beneath an isolated bridge in the mountains in Wyoming county, today believed that his daughter was abducted by "someone we all know."

The slain girl's father, a mine foreman and local political leader, told police that his daughter was much too cautious to accept appointments with strange men.

"That's why" he declared, "we believe this man is someone she had seen before and whom we all know. She left the house without eating breakfast."

Hunting Lodge Clue

Meanwhile, State Motor Police under the command of Maj. William Clark searched for an automobile which was seen parked outside a hunting lodge for two days after the kidnapping-murder of Miss Martin. Lights which were blazing inside the lodge were said by police to be significant because hunting lodges are usually closed this time of year.

While a description of the car's driver was not obtained, Maj. Clark said, police do have a description of the car itself and are bending every effort to locate it.

In addition, police are checking membership lists of all the hunting lodges in Wyoming county, where the crime is believed by police to have been committed, and vicinity.

Sawmill Clue Fails

The burlap bag, in which the girl's nude body was found, was traced to a mill in Noxen township, where police were told that while the mill had used bags of similar type, another kind had been used since last July.

Police revealed that an examination of cloth and metal fragments found in a saw mill steam boiler near the spot where the girl's body was found, disclosed that they were not parts of the clothing which was worn by Miss Martin when she disappeared.

Local Contractors Are Awarded Bid In Beaver County

Matthew Leivo and Sons, local contractors, builders of the new G. C. Murphy company here, on Wednesday were awarded a contract on their bid of $107,300 for a new 100-bed infirmary addition to the county home in Beaver county.

Also sharing with the Leivo company is the William M. Clark plumbing company of this city, successful bidders for the plumbing work at a cost of $9,972.

The contract signed Wednesday ground was broken on Thursday and the Leivo company has already started to move in equipment for the excavating work.

Fewer Sudden Deaths Reported In Past Year

Deaths which occurred from violence or diseases which brought on sudden death were fewer during the past year, the reports of Coroner Charles Piper, Evers and Acting Coroner M. M. Ingham reveal. Deaths from all causes which were of a sudden nature totalled 127 in 1935, while during the preceding year, there were 149 cases handled by Coroner Orville Potter.

Heart ailments again were the leading cause of death, totalling 42, the same number as in 1934. Automobile accidents 25 in number, which stood next in line dropped off in 1935, due in a large measure, Coroner Byers believes to the rigid enforcement of the 50-mile speed limit in the state.

Suicides came next with 14 in number, the same as in the preceding year. Falls caused six deaths, one less than in 1934, and there were five deaths from trains which was also one less than in 1934.

Other causes of death included: Burns 4; one less than in 1934; cerebral hemorrhage 3, or 7 less than in 1934; homicides 3, which were 3 less than in 1934; accidental asphyxiation from gas 2, the same as in 1934; drowning 3, which was one more than in 1934; tractor accidents 2; injuries caused by diving into streams while bathing; 2; lightning 1; explosion 1; accidental gunshot wound 1; electric shock 1; oil well accident 1; other causes, 8.

Religious and fraternal circles: 7:30, evening service. The sermons will be delivered by Rev. W. J. Holmes.

New Nazi Rules Against Jews In Effect On Sunday

Hitler Expects Wealthy Foreign Jews To Finance Emigration Of Semites From Reich

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—With "black Sunday" dawning tomorrow for 600,000 German Jews, the government of Chancellor Hitler today looked to wealthy foreign Jews to finance an exodus of Semites from the Reich.

The new year will begin for German Jews with the placing into effect of the new Nazi commandments banning them from community life and making them social outcasts.

According to usually well-informed sources, Hitler is confident that rich Jews in foreign countries are now convinced that the future of German Jews within the Reich is "hopeless."

Consequently, the Fuehrer is said to believe that these foreign Jews can be induced to finance the emigration of German Jews from this country and their resettlement elsewhere.

A pilot must have at least 200 hours at the controls in the air to obtain a transport license.

Syncopated rhythm is found in the music of nearly every savage or semi-civilized nation.

Shirley Will Not Attend Big Rose Bowl Game

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright, 1935, INS.)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 31.—There is a minor disturbance in the Temple household as the year comes to a close. Shirley wants to attend the Rose Bowl game between Southern California and Duke and her mother has put her foot down.

Shirley will be grand marshal at the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena on Monday morning and she sees no reason why she shouldn't attend the game in the afternoon. Shirley has yet to see a football game and she's anxious her first be a good one.

Mrs. Temple thinks Shirley will be too tired after the morning excitement and would do better to go home and rest. At the moment the little star isn't working before the camera. She completed her last picture, "The Little Princess," two weeks before Christmas.

In the discussion over the football game, Pa Temple is on Shirley's side. He'd like to see it himself.

It's a hectic day as they make added scenes for "The Girl From Brooklyn" and "Wife, Husband and Friend" on the same stage at 20th Century-Fox. There's good reason why both companies are on one stage. Warner Baxter is a co-star in both pictures, with Alice Faye in the first and Loretta Young in the second. Gregory Ratoff directs them both.

The versatile Ratoff first has Baxter on one end of the stage and then on the other and he gets more and more excited as the day goes on. Back and forth, back and forth he goes.

Finally he says: "I have to write and act and direct and after this I'll be come a marathon walker."

Over at RKO, Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire are shooting a scene for "The Castles". They are playing the second visit of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle to Paris.

It's supposed to be summer and they are standing on a balcony looking over the city. Fred has a bathrobe over pajamas and Ginger looks very lovely in a filmy negligee.

After they rehearse two or three times, Director Henry Potter directs that the big door of the sound stage be opened. It happens this day is one of those few chill ones when a blustery wind is coming overland from the Pacific. In a minute the stage is like an ice box.

Says Ginger: "Please turn up the heat quickly. No one can look romantic when their teeth are chattering."

So they turn-up the steam to make balmy California balmy again.

FOOD and CLOTHING and a HOME and a LIVING for 2,000 PEOPLE

YOU think Penn Power means just some outfit that delivers your daily light, heat and power?

Well, you're right. But there's more to it than that. !

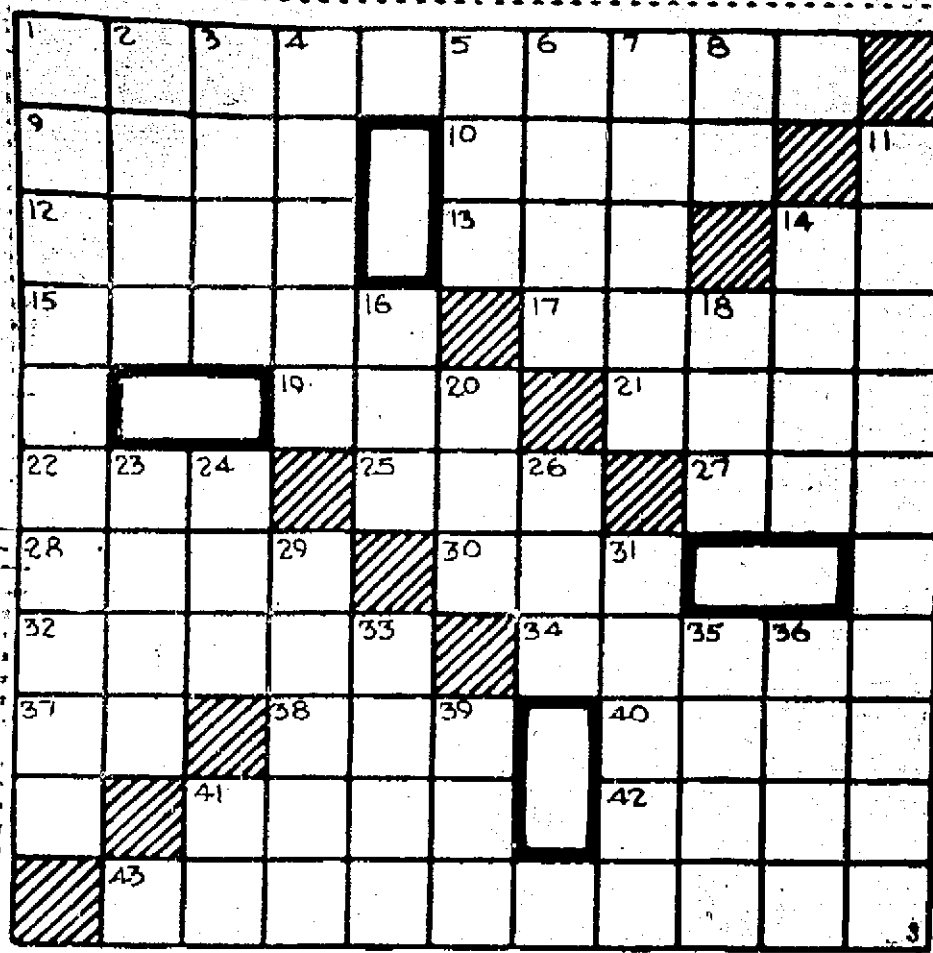

This company means a living to over 2,000 people... men, women and children... families of Penn Power workers.

This company's wages buy the food and clothing, buy the homes, pay the rent, buy the auto, the radio, the furniture; pay the taxes; put the kids through school... make a living for all these thousands of families. A steady living, too. And through them, and the wages they spend, it helps make a living for thousands of others in this and neighboring communities. Besides that, the other money the Company spends for supplies, material and equipment (AND TAXES) means jobs for thousands more. Here's an industry many a community would give a lot to have more like.

New Castle Boy Is Back In Morganza

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 31.—Three pajama-clad inmates of Morganza Reformatory were found sleeping under a single blanket in a parked car in Bloomfield on Friday, police reported.

The youths, who said they were David Williams, 14, of New Castle; Quarino De Martina, 17, of Bloomfield, and William Kiefer, 19, of Warren county, admitted to police that they had escaped from the hospital at the institution, taking the blanket with them.

Barefooted and in their scant attire, the boys made their way to Canonsburg, a mile away, found an automobile and drove it to Pittsburgh, police said. Morganza officials, who returned them to the institution, said they had been patients for several days with minor injuries.

At the Centennial exhibition in Philadelphia in 1876, bananas were such a novelty that they were wrapped in tinfoil and sold at a dime each.

Fans To Witness Eight Boxing Bouts Here Monday Night

Pro-Indus Club Sponsors Of Bouts To Be Held In Arena

BLANK AND HICKS IN FEATURE BOUT

What appears to be one of the best boxing shows yet arranged for this city will be staged in The Arena, Monday night, Dec. 31. The five-fight card is sponsored by the Pro-Indus club, a local civic organization in an effort to raise funds with which to purchase a fire alarm system for the Margaret Henry Home, a children's orphanage. The first bout will start at 8:30 p. m. Many pugilists, favored because of their good past fights here, are scheduled for action.

In Feature Role

The feature role will be filled by Harold Blank of Youngstown, who is a student in Bethany College. He has yet to taste defeat here. In addition to being a cagey, smart boxer, he possesses a knockout punch. His opponent will be Irwin Hicks, of Pittsburgh, who vanquished Chuck Arnett of West Pittsburg, some weeks ago. It will be Blank's first fight since he entered Bethany College. The boxers weigh 140 pounds.

Another bout that should be productive of slugging and possibly a "kayo" will find Steve Morgan, of Youngstown, a favorite here, tackling Nick Cottage, a wallpaper from Alliance. Morgan has met with only one reverse locally, should memory serve correctly, while Cottage put up a most thrilling scrap before he lost a decision to Scully Tonti, of Cleveland. They are middleweights, of 160-pounds.

May Turn In Knockout

Joe Simms of Youngstown and Oscar Wright of Pittsburgh, colored and both weighing 140 pounds, have been brought back for a return "go." Several weeks ago they had a fistic feud and fanatics in a frenzy here. It was one of the kind of bouts that causes a repeat and it is anticipated that having lost the last time Simms will strive harder than ever before to even the score with Wright. A kayo is likely in this battle.

Sully Tonti, a favorite from Midland, a brother to the well known Dr. Tonti, wrestler and strong man, will take on Joe Thomas of Pittsburgh, who made Morgan hustle to win not so long ago. They weigh 155 pounds.

Muddy On Tap Again

Having produced Billy Reale, a heavy scrapper who has made good, Princeton will send Steve Misko here Monday night to tackle Ray Brooks of Niles at 140 pounds.

Muddy Kurtz, the fun-maker from McKeesport, who can fight like a prairie fire can spread when fanned, will oppose Jack Watkins, of Chester, W. Va., at 155 pounds.

Another bout of feature role character will find Al Sayers, of Chester, W. Va., trying to outpunch the swiftest yet, hard-hitting, game Steve Kowalk, of Pittsburgh at 147 pounds.

The Pro-Indus club members hope to see The Arena packed and have been urging their friends and also friends of the Margaret Henry home to make the New Year's night celebration a fistic party.

It will require an expenditure of several hundred dollars to purchase a fire-alarm system for the home according to fire authorities here. Such a system is needed there, the Pro-Indus club reports.

State Sanctions Show The fistic show which will be supervised by Ed Fritz and Tommy Leach, representatives of the Jefferson A. C., has been sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic union and the Pennsylvania Athletic commission.

The officials for the bouts will be selected shortly before the first bout starts at 8:30 p. m. The Pennsylvania Athletic commission will appoint the referee.

Most of the boxers are scheduled to arrive here in the late afternoon of Monday and will be examined by a physician at 7 p. m. then rest until they are summoned to enter the ring.

McKeesport Five Plays Here Sunday

Joe Kelley, Local Cager, To Appear in Line-up Against Boosters

One of the major basketball attractions of the New Year brings together the McKeesport "Big Five" against the New Castle Boosters Sunday afternoon at The Arena at 3:15 o'clock.

In cage circles the McKeesport combination ranks way up top. The visitors boast a collection of crack ex-collegiate and ex-high floor stars. One of the members of the team is Joe "High Pockets" Kelley, former New Castle high ace, who will be in the starting lineup against the Boosters. To date the McKeesporters have toppled some of the big names in the district and feel confident of adding the locals to the victory string.

Coch Fraser hopes to have his full starting lineup intact. Last week the Boosters battled the Ormsby-Ferris cagers minus the services of "Pop" Adams and Johnny Uram. Adams was injured during practice and has fully recovered. Uram was away for the day. The game is anticipated to be replete with action.

In the preliminary engagement, starting at 2:15 o'clock, the New Castle Merchants face the Bell-Evans cagers of Youngstown. The main game will start immediately after the prelim.

New Castle Tops Erie Academy In Floor Game 34-17

Locals Double Score On Erie Team In Game At Arena Court Friday Night

NEW BRIGHTON HIGH ON TUESDAY

New Castle high school's "Red Hurricane" basketball team won handily from Erie Academy high last night at the Arena floor before a small crowd, the score being 34 to 17. New Castle's next game will be Tuesday night at New Brighton when the locals open Section Three.

The Bridenbaughmen had the lead throughout the game last night, getting away to a 7 to 2 lead in the first period and at halftime holding tenaciously to the lead at 13 to 9.

Never Lose Lead After the intermission the locals came back to the floor with the same attack as they had used in the first half and again in the third period outscored the visitors 7 to 4, to have a lead of 20 to 13 at the close of the third stanza.

Just to convince the fans and the Erie team that the first three periods had not been flukes and that they really do have a fine offensive attack, the red and black clad tossers added 14 more points in the final period and held the Erie Academy boys to four points, to wind up with the score just double at 34 to 17.

New Castle's offensive attack was led by Ernie Adams, "Rags" Gennock and "High Speed" Clark. The best bet offensively in the Erie lineup was Nicolaia with more than half of the points made by the invaders.

Fine Defensive Game Defensively, Lauro and Wenda put on a fine show and held the Academy to five field goals. Christopher, Maciarello and Ross also played well when used as substitute guards.

The pre-league season is over for the locals with a three to three tie, leaving upset Meadville, Farrell and Erie Academy and losing to Ford City twice and Sharon.

The Croatian quintet of Farrell gave the Gersons a 23 to 22 shock last night at the Falcon floor, with the visitors behind at the half 11 to 10. Novayel was the shining light in the game.

Tuesday the Gersons will play the Geneva Reserves in a preliminary to the Geneva-Booster game at The Arena.

Pretty Squaw Kickem Plenty!

VIRGINIA CRAWFORD AND CHIEF WEST

Football player or no, we wouldn't mind showing pretty Virginia Crawford, Orange Bowl queen, the finer points of kicking the pigskin, would you? But it appears the job has fallen to Chief West, member of the Oklahoma football team, which plays Tennessee in the Orange Bowl game at Miami, Fla., Jan. 2.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Back as a "yogi" . . . Here I am again, back to play the role of a "yogi" for the last time this year . . . Its "bowl time" again, with the supposed to be cream of collegiate football machines prancing onto the gridiron before thousands of fans, New Year's Day . . . Here's how they shape up from this little nook:

Southern California-Duke The daddy of bowl games brings together the perfect Duke team and Howard Jones' lads from Troy, in Pasadena, with offensive strength, plus Grumpy Lansell, only one of the superior backs of the past season. . . . Eric Tipton, whose magic foot beat F. J. will have to stage another story-like punting exhibition, an even better one than against Pitt, for this lad Lansell can catch a pigskin and dash away like a fawn. And then there is Anderson, Smith, and, oh what's the diff. A trifle too much for the Blue Devils . . .

Carnegie Tech-Texas Christian: In a tussle equally as attractive as the Roses business, our Western Penn enemy, Carnegie Tech stacks up against T. C. U. in the Sugar Bowl affair which shapes up like a battle between a wrestler and a pitcher. . . . The Skibos will be out to wrestle Davey O'Brien, who tosses about the apple with the greatest finesse. . . . Schedules of both clubs show that Tech has battled a flock of good ball-clubs while the Frogs of good ball-clubs while the Frogs went through the season against the customary crop of Southwest teams which only know how to pass the edge. . . . And so, we give you Carnegie Tech. . . .

Tennessee-Oklahoma: Tennessee's Vols gave an inkling of their strength in the last regular battle. If those stories coming from the camp of Oklahoma are not phoney, Tennessee gets the nod with a little to spare. . . . The accounts say that the Sooners will be shy a couple of lads. . . . Spotting the Vols a couple of "regs" just doesn't figure up to par. . . . George Cafego should decide the matter with Waddy Young, the redoubtable Sooner end, out to halt the "Cafego". . . .

Texas Tech-St. Mary's: Every one seems to be raving about this Texas Tech gang. True, the Tech clan has gone through the season unblemished while the Gaels dropped two clashes. . . . Too much power in Madigan's eleven. . . . In the Sun Bowl affair, Utah and New Mexico mix it up with Utah getting the edge. . . . Being from the East, we must stick with the East against the West and the South to outpunch the North in another clash. . . .

In conclusion—A Happy New Year!

KEYSTONE MEMBERS TO HAVE ELECTION

New committee members will also be chosen at the session.

JUNIOR CHURCH LEAGUE TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the managers of the various teams in the Junior Church basketball league at the "Y" at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. It was announced by Henry MacNicholas today. The league will start play on January 7 at 7 o'clock at the "Y" court.

Trojans-Duke Await Battle

Duke Blue Devils Are Driven Hard By Coach Wade In Final Workout

SOUTHERN CAL IS CONFIDENT

(International News Service) PASADENA, Dec. 31.—The Trojans and the Dukes were to taper off today, rest tomorrow and then attempt to whale the daylight out of each other Monday in the 1939 grid classic, the Rose Bowl game.

"That, briefly, summed up the situation last night after a day of savage and furious workouts for both clubs.

The Troys were rough in their final heavy workout, and so were the iron men of Duke.

"It looks," said Howard Jones, head man of the U. S. C. Trojans, "like the boys won't take this game in stride. It looks like the boys are mean and angry."

Believed Scouted

Jones gave this opinion right after Bill Sangster, the starting full-back, had banged into a tackling dummy so hard he all but split it in two.

Wade lashed at his men with an amazing fury in their final heavy session.

He was, it was reliably learned, good and peevish over the fact that twice his team been scouted by unofficial "scouts" in the supposed "spy-proof" practice field.

Some 90,000 people will see the super-sport spectacle, but it was breezed around town that scalpers are in for a wallowing this year. Tickets costing $4.40 were reported selling at only $6.00 while behind-the-goat seats were said to be selling at cost.

The Trojans still were favorites in the betting, at present 5 to 11.

Memorial High Beats Blue and White 27-17 In Slow Game

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 31.—Ellwood City high school's last basketball invasion of the preliminary season proved disastrous with the Blue and White returning home from Campbell Memorial high on the small end of a 27-17 count.

The winners led all the way and the only time the locals came near reaching the 20 mark was in the third quarter when they were behind only four points. A man-for-man defense was used by the Memorial high boys, while Ellwood used their usual zone defense.

When the Newtonmen make their initial bow in the Section Three games next Tuesday night at Lincoln gym they will face the heralded Alquiappa high five, reputed to be the strongest team in the section.

Quintuplets Facing Fifth New Years' Day

By GRACE TROY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CORBELL, Ont., Dec. 31.—Rompings in the snow despite a temperature of 26 below zero, the Dionne quintuplets began celebrating their fifth New Year's eve bright and early today.

The five healthy, brown-eyed beauties have made great physical and mental strides during the past year. Under the tutelage of a trained teacher, they are rapidly learning to speak excellent French.

As for their health, Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, who ushered the quintuplets into the world and has supervised their upbringing, declared:

"The past year was successful. The quintuplets' good health is proof of that. For 1939, we shall see."

Happy and carefree, the five little girls looked forward joyfully to a big family party on New Year's eve—the day all French Canadians celebrate.

Not on "Review" As on Christmas Day, the quintuplets will not be "on review" tomorrow.

The celebration has been reserved for the Dionnes. There will be giving, a turkey dinner in the nursery dining room and games galore.

Feature of the party will be a floor show which the quintuplets have been rehearsing especially for Papa and Mama Dionne.

The coming year promises to be a banner one for the girls. The highlight will be the forthcoming visit of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, who will call on their five wards here next June.

The year also may see definite steps to reunite the quintuplets with the other members of their family.

Their father, Oliva Dionne, and the other guardians have reached agreement on certain phases of the reunion plan. A final agreement has not been reached, however, regarding the site of a new home for the family, but it is expected that the coming year will see this barrier removed.

Sonja Henie Faces Suit For $100,000

Alvin R. Katz, An Attorney, Charges He Was Thrown Out Of Hotel

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—Sonja Henie, vivacious skating and motion picture star, was named defendant today, together with Arthur M. Wirtz, vice president of the Chicago Stadium, in a $100,000 damage suit filed in superior court.

The suit was filed in behalf of Alvin R. Katz, an attorney, following a skirmish in a north side hotel during which Katz claimed he was "roughed up" and forcibly ejected.

Katz is counsel for the plaintiff in a $3,000,000 plagiarism suit directed at Miss Henie and Twentieth-Century-Fox Corporation.

Katz had accompanied a deputy U. S. Marshal to Miss Henie's hotel two days ago hoping to serve notice of the plagiarism suit on the blonde motion picture star. Instead of serving Miss Henie, Katz claims he was tossed out of the hotel by a group of "hoodlums."

In his bill filed today Katz contends that the "hoodlums" were in the employ of Wirtz, who is president of the corporation sponsoring Miss Henie's current ice carnival tour, and that Wirtz was acting as the skating star's "agent."

Taxpayers Rush To Pay Delinquent Taxes On Last Day

It looked something like a world's series in the corridor of the court house this morning. The corridor was jammed and the inside of the county treasurer's office was packed getting in under the wire to pay their delinquent taxes.

Noon is the closing hour for the court house offices but at 11 o'clock County Treasurer V. I. Mandich said "We will work until every taxpayer has been cared for if we stay here until midnight." In addition, those people who did not have their delinquent statements and asked for them today will be furnished with the statements on Tuesday and can pay their taxes on that day and still get credit.

Today is the deadline for delinquent taxes under the Act of 1933. While plenty of notice has been given to that effect, scores of people waited until this morning and the resultant jam had every employee in the treasurer's office busy.

Both teams were over the heavy part of the practice and planned just enough work to keep from going stale. Bill Osmanski, injured Holy Cross fullback, was still out of uniform on Kerr indicated the place kicking duties of Osmanski would be assigned to Bill Daddio, Pittsburgh end, and George Faust, Minnesota quarterback.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight champion, made his fifth fight in an attempted come-back last night in New York and his victim was Eddie Zivic of Pittsburgh who the ex-champion beat in ten rounds.

The outstanding baseball player of 1938 was Jimmy Fox, Boston Red Sox, according to the New York Chapter of the Baseball Writers association of America.

Gambling is intercollegiate football's Parasite No. 1, according to football coaches who concluded their eighteenth annual meeting yesterday in New York City.

Mel Ott, home run king of the National League, will captain the New York Giants in 1939, because of Gus Mancuso having figured in a trade with the Chicago Cubs. Mel will receive about $20,000, in 1939.

Quiet Advance In Stock Market

Gains Are Made By Pivotal Groups In Last Day Of 1938 Trading

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—The stock market today closed out the year with a quiet advance on a broad front. Gains in pivotal groups ran to about a point on the average.

Cash sales for year-end tax purposes were less abundant.

Total volume ran at the rate of about 600,000 shares. Ralls gains were prominent on the upside, with steel running a close second.

There was little in the business news of interest to the market, but Wall Street faced the new year in a cheerful frame of mind.

The market opened on a firm note, and gradually extended initial gains in a steady advance to the close.

Chesapeake & Ohio, Chrysler, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Public Service of N. J., and Allied Chemical were among the stocks to gain a point or more.

American Telephone was a feature, crossing 150 to hit a new top for the year.

Most major commodity markets were closed for the holiday. Grains moved up fractionally on the Chicago Board of Trade. Minor staples were quiet and steady.

Seven Sentenced To Workhouse In 1938

Seven persons were sent by Mayor Charles E. McGrath to serve time in the Allegheny county workhouse during 1938. All were charged with vagrancy.

It is a good idea to check automobile spring shackles frequently. It is just as bad to have them too tight as too loose.

Boys, 15, Raid Impregnable Mint for Fun

Two 15-year-old orphan boys who "just wanted to see if it could be done" broke into the U. S. Mint at San Francisco. Climbing a rain spout, they entered by a second-story window and had made their way past tear gas equipment, attack-proof steel walls, intricate burglar alarms and a small army of guards before they finally were spotted by an inspector and surrounded by a marine-gun patrol. "It was simple," said William Gallacher (left) and Paul Francis. (Central Press)

'April Daylight' In December Being Used To Speed Crops In Huge Greenhouses Here

Every day in some way science is coming not only to the aid of mankind but also to the aid of plant life and although it may sound perhaps strange to say that it now is possible to produce April "daylight" in December, nevertheless, it is true, because it is being done in the W. H. Weinchenk greenhouse, in Savannah, Lawrence county.

The April "daylight" was decided upon to attain better fruiting tendency in the rearing of tomatoes and to obtain an earlier crop—in fact, weeks ahead of a crop not encouraged by the extra hours of "daylight."

Following a conference between W. H. and Joseph Weinchenk, operators of greenhouses and Walter Gross, illumination engineer for the Pennsylvania Power company, it was decided to arrange a system of electric lights to provide the "daylight" for two tomato beds in a greenhouse.

Provide "Daylight"
The lights, 18 in number, each of 300 wattage, were strung. One line of nine lights was suspended 66 inches above one bed and a similar number of lights, at the same height, was suspended above another bed. Each light is eight feet apart and shrouded by a RL dome reflector.

The seed was planted and it is believed that by turning on the lights two hours before regular daylight arrives each morning and also burning them two hours after darkness appears each night the same length of "daylight" as in April would be secured in December and other winter months.

Large Force Required
Quite a force of men are employed. During the rush season a much larger force is required to keep the industry operating at full blast. There are countless things to be done all of which must be done in the right way at the right time.

One who has not visited the agricultural industry in Savannah and that is actually what it is, has no idea of the immensity of the production. And being on tip-toes the operators decided to have April daylight in December and are looking forward to not only a better fruiting tendency but a much earlier crop of tomatoes than usual.

Extra "Daylight" Hours
The extra hours of "daylight" will aid the growth and fruiting tendency, it is believed and when desired the plants will be removed to a bed for permanent planting. Transplanting and potting will have been eliminated.

Every time a plant is disturbed it is "shocked" according to the Weinchenks. The lights may be burned all night but this would be forcing plants and might not react favorably, hence the lights will be used to bring only four hours extra "daylight" daily.

The lights are arranged in such a way that the "daylight" is focused properly over both beds and at night presents a strange appearance in the Savannah section. The lights are visible for miles.

Huge Greenhouses
W. H. Weinchenk has several greenhouses and Joseph Weinchenk also has one. However, it might be said that the biggest greenhouse under one roof in the United States is operated by the Weinchenks and produce is grown all year.

Joseph Weinchenk acted as a guide for a News reporter yesterday in a visit to the greenhouses and the effort to obtain a better fruiting tendency by using April "daylight" in December and other winter months will be observed closely.

STATEMENT AIMS TO CLEAR DOUBT ON COMPENSATION

State Office Here Taxed With
Inquiries As New Year
Opens

Because New Castle and Lawrence county residents are besieging the state's unemployment compensation-office in the Citizens Bank building for authentic information as to their rights to file claims on January 3 and thereafter, District Manager Harold J. Mehl today issued this official announcement.

Important To Public
He said "It is important that citizens understand the procedure." Generally speaking, persons employed in commercial and industrial establishments are entitled to benefits, with the exception of those engaged solely in the following employments during 1937 and 1938—Agricultural service; domestic service in private home; service on navigable waters of the United States; service in the employment of the immediate family; government service and services performed for organizations operating on the non-profit basis.

Eligibility Requirements
In order to be eligible for unemployment compensation each individual must establish that:
1—He is totally unemployed.
2—Able and available for work.
3—Is registered for work and has made claim for compensation.
4—Has earned during his base period (October 1, 1937 to Sept. 30, 1938) an amount equal to or greater than thirteen times his weekly benefit (weekly benefits amount to one-half the weekly wage but cannot exceed $15.00 or drop below $7.50).

In order to receive any benefits he must have earned the minimum amount of wages between October 1, 1937 and September 30, 1938, the minimum varying between $97.50 and $195.00 depending upon the weekly wage.

Claims Paid In 1938
Individuals who drew unemployment compensation during 1938 and exhausted benefits will not be eligible to file new claims (even though they are unemployed after January 3rd, 1939) until the end of their benefit year, which cannot be before January 24, 1939. The benefit year is defined in the Unemployment Compensation Law as "the fifty-two consecutive weeks occurring after January 1st, 1938, with respect to which compensation is payable and thereafter the fifty-two consecutive weeks beginning with the first week with respect to which compensation is next payable after the termination of the last preceding benefit year."

Persons who filed claims in 1938 may compute the beginning of the next benefit year by adding fifty-two consecutive weeks to the date from which they completed their waiting period of three weeks. For example: (1) An individual who filed a claim on January 3rd, 1938, was unemployed for three consecutive weeks thereafter, would begin his benefit year January 24, 1939; fifty-two consecutive weeks from that date, January 24, 1939, would be the earliest date he would be eligible to file a new claim providing he meets requirements mentioned above; (2) Some claimants who filed claims January 3, 1938, and were employed intermittently thereafter did not complete their waiting period of three weeks until July 1 and therefore, their benefit year would not begin until July 1, 1939.

Persons who can determine the end of their first benefit year should not call at the Employment Office until that time.

New Claimants
Persons who have never filed a claim for unemployment compensation and can meet the eligibility requirements mentioned above, are permitted to file claims on January 3rd, 1939 and thereafter. Persons desiring to file claims for the first time should make an effort to visit the office between January 3rd and January 24th, 1939.

It is pointed out that there will be many claimants continuing claims into the new calendar year since their benefit year has not, as yet, been exhausted and this group should not fail to report weekly, if unemployed.

Claims will be accepted at the regularly established offices; itinerant offices to be announced later.

Claimants should bring with them—(1) Social security card; (2) lay-off notice (UC-45); (3) list of all employers worked for since January 1, 1937.
